

Shipping Instructions

When shipping your amplifier in for service, it is extremely important that great care is used to protect your property.

Be sure to:

- Ensure the packaging material and carton selected is sufficient. Most parcels experience a fair amount of wear. The packaging material must completely fill the shipping carton to prevent movement within the box. All of the major shipping companies are automated; both machines and people will handle the carton.
- Double boxing is the best packing method or tightly wrap the unit in cardboard and tape both ends shut, then place the unit in your shipping box.
- You have the option to insure your unit. We strongly recommend insurance. Please make inquiries with your carrier for rates.
- Enclose a copy of service Repair Form.

Your package and unit(s) will be inspected upon receipt. Any damage will be documented and you will be notified. The packaging and carton will be retained for 3 business days. Should you decide to submit a damage claim to the carrier, Spectronix must be notified within those 3 days or the packaging and carton will be discarded.

Spectronix is not responsible for damage that occurs during transportation.

Shipping label. Please cut off and tape to the out side of your box.
